

The Lower Adirondack Regional Center for History

presents

“The American Revolution”

A series of lunchtime learning programs about how the American nation was made.

Wednesdays 1 –2 p.m.
February 12 through April 30

Hancock House
6 Moses Circle, Ticonderoga

- What were the military forces of the Revolution like?
- What were the major campaigns of the Revolution?
- Who were the leaders of the Revolution?

Bring a brown bag lunch and join us for this Teaching Company survey of the American Revolution, from Lexington and Concord in April 1775 to the Treaty of Paris in 1783. Presented by Professor Allen C. Guelzo of Gettysburg College.

This program will be held in the lower-level program room of the Hancock House Museum and you may attend all or some of the series.

Additional information is available by calling

518-585-7868 or via email to:

larchny@bridgepoint1.com

LARCH

Lower Adirondack Regional Center for History